

Pause for your PAWE – cyclones

Cyclones are stressful and making last minute decisions can be deadly. Writing down a Plan for Animal Welfare in Emergencies (PAWE) and including it in your household cyclone plan can help ensure you make the best possible decisions to protect your animals.

Use the questions below as prompts to help you write down your plan. Write separate plans for different animal types as their needs will differ.

Survival plan for your animals' welfare in an emergency

1. Animals' names or types of livestock
